For Mr. Drew Sparkman

I strongly believe in the purpose of education and in the good relationship a teacher must have with the students in order to make things work. I became a student of Mr. Sparkman in November and since that I got to know his unique technique of teaching. During our classes we have used various types of technology which made learning easier and even more effective. For example, we were asked to submit essays online. We were encouraged to explain our thoughts of the topic and to gain a deeper knowledge through research. His passion towards education was showed by the various discussions we have had after each and every topic. In addition, his way of thinking is not just impressive but is a good guide to every student. His personal and academic experiences make him an outstanding teacher and mentor.
